Concept of the exhibition:	An exhibition dedicated to the story of Moldovan Traditional costume, that goes beyond cultural heritage and has a special role in defining the national identity. It gathers 12 costumes, each hand cut, sewn and embroidered by members of association SEZATOAREA BASARABIA, based on the patterns discovered in the collections of the National Museum of Ethnography and Natural History of Republic of Moldova, a few of them being as old as 200 years. Ia- the centrepiece of the traditional costume -is the name given to the folk blouse in Republic of Moldova and certain parts of Romania. It is the most ornated and complex piece, with multiple symbols on the front part and the sleeves. The art of the top sleeve embroidery of Ia –“altita” is a Cultural Identity Element in the Republic of Moldova and Romania, presented for UNESCO Intangible World Heritage List.
