Concept of the exhibition:	Fairy tales, sagas and symbols How did the world and life come into being in all its diversity, what is the plan of the supernatural powers that determine destiny, what are the causes of evil, illness and death, and of what extraordinary deeds are there new insights? With its new major exhibition, Liechtenstein National Museum is presenting the topics of fairy tales, myths, legends, fables and sagas, which form a fundamentally important part of every culture and its collective memory. The exhibition pursues themes that course through the narratives of people from different cultures. These themes start deep in prehistory and spread at an early stage. They unfold in the myths, sagas, fables, legends of antiquity and lead into the world of our fairy tales, which were initially handed down only orally. The world of Liechtenstein sagas is also showcased. The influence of these literary genres has shaped art for millennia. The narrative elements and narrative structures passed down in the stories can also be found in the modern world of fantasy narratives and films. The following books will be published for the exhibition: > Fairy Tales, Sagas and Symbols CHF 39.-- > Liechtenstein Sagas CHF 39.-- > Nibelungenlied Genia Chef CHF 49.--
